Local Firemen Show First Aid Methods

While 12 "stay at homes" of the Redwood City Fire Department held their regular monthly drill Tuesday night, 15 members of the first aid team motored to Manteca where they gave a demonstration before the San Joaquin County Firemen's Association.

Leading the group were Asst. Chief Al Russell, captain of the team, and Harry Stevens, instructor.

Before 150 valley firemen, problems were demonstrated including treatment for a person with a broken back, with burns from the waist down, with fractured thigh, dislocated knee, fractured collar bone, arterial bleeding from the ear, or chest wound. Artificial respiration also was demonstrated.

S. F. Pilot Killed; Peninsulan Bails Out

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 20 (UP)—Sgt. O. M. Newsom, army air pilot, San Francisco, died today from injuries received last night when a U. S. navy plane, in which he was a passenger, crashed in a heavy fog on a hilltop.

Lieut. J. D. Greer, U. S. Navy, Coronado, Calif., pilot of the plane, was not injured seriously.

At approximately the same time, Lieut. L. C. Simpler, U. S. Navy, Sunnyvale, Calif., piloting an accompanying ship was forced to "bail out" near Clanton, Ala., when his gas supply ran out.

Greer and Newsom crashed near Irondale, outside the city limits here.

Hangar Project Given Support Of Councilmen

$5,154 Will Be Taken From Unbudgeted Reserve Fund

Submission of the proposed Redwood City airport hangar to WPA County Manager James S. James for final approval was ordered by the council Monday night following presentation of cost estimates by City Engineer Charles Dimmitt.

Costs of the hangar, which will be located on the city-owned corporation yard property at Chestnut street and the Bayshore highway, were given by Dimmitt as $7999, of which WPA is expected to give $2845 and the municipality $5154.

Dimmitt will finish the preliminary plans already submitted to James and will file the formal application for WPA funds as soon as they are ready. The project will give employment to 34 men.

Cliff Walk, airport chairman, submitted figures to the city council last night indicating an income of $105 per month for the field, with an estimated $86 net profit to the city per month. If this rate can be maintained, the city's investment in the hangar would be returned in about five years.

City participation was voted upon motion of Councilman Paul McCarthy, seconded by Councilman Evans Fletcher, with the $5154 to come from the unbudgeted reserve.

Some changes in the lease submitted by Walk were recommended by City Attorney Albert Mansfield before the council determines definitely to go ahead with the project.

Decision not to delay submission of the project for WPA approval was voted, however, because of the shortness of time remaining for securing federal financing.

Brisbane Publisher Stricken on Rostrum

(Special to The Tribune)

BRISBANE, Nov. 20.—Arthur Gledhill, editor and publisher of the Brisbane Sun, dropped dead here last evening as he mounted the speaker's stand to address a meeting of the Brisbane Voters' League.

He toppled over, apparently from a heart attack, before he had said a word to the audience.

The body was taken to the Nieri mortuary in South San Francisco, where funeral arrangements are pending.

Gledhill is survived by a wife and son. He was a Mason and member of Trinity Church of San Francisco. Coroner W. F. Crosby announced an inquest will be held into Gledhill's death.

Deep Water Port For Redwood City Secures Approval

Board Unanimous in Viewing Move As One Worthy of Full Study For Municipal Undertaking

Speeding the projected deep water harbor development for Redwood City another step nearer reality, the city council Mon. night unanimously authorized City Engineer Charles Dimmitt to prepare the detailed plans and estimate the costs of the wharf and transit shed facilities. Also, under appointment of Mayor Charles G. Lambert, two city councilmen—Louis Christensen and Paul McCarthy—were named to represent the city in all formal harbor discussions.

In a third important step, the council instructed City Attorney Albert Mansfield to study all legal phases of the proposed port development, and authorized his going to Sacramento to seek amendments to the harbor district bill which will permit Redwood City to withdraw from the county harbor limits.

Haste in preparing the actual port plans, even to the extent of securing additional help, was authorized by the council so that an application can be forwarded for PWA or WPA funds while federal financing is still available.

Authority for the city engineer to proceed came upon motion of Councilman Evans Fletcher and second of Councilman Louis Christensen.

Council action followed the recommendation of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, to which the question of port development was submitted November 14, that the city proceed with all possible dispatch.

EXPRESS ENTHUSIASM

C. G. Uhlenberg, secretary of the Citizen's Committee, reported that the Tribune articles of November 15 had "clearly outlined the discussion as to the opportunity for Redwood City as well as expressed the enthusiasm on the part of this board (Citizens' Committee) for the harbor."

Legal aspects of the question were put up to City Attorney Albert Mansfield, who was authorized to make one or two trips to Sacramento at once to discuss prospects of securing legislative action in January to amend the port district bill.

The purpose of amendments will be to permit Redwood City to withdraw from the San Mateo County Harbor District so it can proceed "on its own" for harbor development.

This same provision will help the South San Francisco harbor project, and the one at Half Moon Bay, so that those communities can proceed with their own developments, if they choose.

As it is, it is believed unlikely that any port project can be assured county-wide support as demonstrated from the opposition incurred in Burlingame and San Mateo which refused to aid less populated areas.

CITIES ON PRAIRIES

Councilman Fletcher, in discussing the port district, said he did not see any merit in the former county-wide district as it was improbable that Daly City or Burlingame ever would aid Redwood City with harbor development.

He declared that Redwood City had been unduly favored by nature, referring to the ideal conditions which made the slogan, "Climate Best by Government Test" possible, but he said that it had not taken advantage of its natural resources.

Fine cities, he said, were built on prairies, crediting the achievement to the determination and character of the people. He declared the port project was one "certainly worth looking into at this time."

Christensen, in supporting Fletcher's views, said the council should not hesitate to act in view of the Citizens' Committee's favorable report.

Councilman Robert Jones suggested the possibility that the port district might be extended beyond the Redwood City limits to take in the Port San Francisco project at Belmont on which considerable funds have been expended before it was discovered that the federal government would not aid any private port.

City Attorney Mansfield said that it is his hope to amend the port district bill so that some of this adjacent land could be taken into the city harbor district.

LAND WORRIES REMOVED

Prospects of securing the desired harbor frontage at a small outlay of cash or under deferred payments so that Redwood City will have ample opportunity to develop its simplified port unit without that worry were told to the council by William Vielhauer, editor of the Tribune, who repeated the offer of George A. Merrill, Redwood City pioneer, to make the acreage available.

He also informed the council of the offer of the Pacific Portland Cement Company to assist the project to whatever extent possible.

County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman, one of the early port boosters, and Vielhauer will assist Councilmen McCarthy and Christensen as lay members in furthering the harbor campaign.

One of the first duties of the committee will be the submission of Engineer Dimmitt's simplified port facilities to the war department in San Francisco for approval.

Federal participation in the dredging to the extent of $94,000 in Redwood creek and of WPA in the terminal and warehouse building will depend upon construction of proper facilities to handle ocean freighters.

It is expected that Redwood City's costs for port facilities and dredging will run around $200,000 although efforts to reduce this amount will be pursued.

Carl Beeger Wills Estate to Relatives

Carl Beeger, local tannery firm executive who died last week, left his estate entirely to his relatives, under terms of his will filed for probate today by his brother, Henry A. Beeger.

Bequests of $1000 each were made to Betty R. Taylor, niece; John Beeger, nephew, and William Beeger, nephew. A $500 bequest was made to Nancy Lee Taylor grandniece.

The remainder of the estate, valued at "more than $10,000," according to the petition, is given to the deceased's mother, Mary Beeger; four sisters, Julia B. Ross, Gertrude Beeger, Lulu Beeger and Pauline Barneson, and to Henry Beeger, "share and share alike."

Dimmitt Wins Manager Post From Council

Appointee Has Served City for 18 Years; Tenure Not Fixed

City Engineer Charles L. Dimmitt, who has held the engineering post since January, 1917, or for the past 18 years, is Redwood City's city manager pro tem under appointment of the city council Monday night.

Dimmitt was selected to succeed City Manager Ernest Rolison, who formally resigned last night to become an assistant to Morris L. Cooke in the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) in Washington, D. C.

Rolison's resignation was accepted upon motion of Councilman George McNulty, seconded by Councilman Evans Fletcher.

The appointment of Dimmitt, which came at a later period in the meeting, resulted on motion of Councilman Fletcher, seconded by Councilman McNulty.

The selection of the city engineer to act temporarily and the division of other duties of the city manager among Mayor Charles G. Lambert and City Treasurer B. E. Myers, as suggested by The Tribune November 11 "as probable," came upon unanimous motion of the council.

MAY DEFER MANAGER

The council, meanwhile, is being besieged with applications for the permanent berth, which may, however, not be filled until after April, 1936, when the council as constituted at that time takes office.

Dimmitt, under the terms of the charter adopted in 1929, would not be eligible for the appointment at this time as he lacks the qualification of having served as an assistant or deputy of the city manager for at least one year.

But, it is generally agreed, unless some city manager candidate can be found upon whom the council will agree, Dimmitt will likely serve out the period between now and next April.

Engineering experiences of the new city manager include periods served as a railway civil engineer in Oregon, Mexico and Brazil; service as assistant engineer of Oklahoma; highway engineer at San Diego and San Joaquin counties, and with the Washington state department, and as a deputy county engineer in Kings county, Wash., and San Mateo county.

Dimmitt has served during Rolison's absences so that he is familiar with most of the duties of the new office.

McCARTHY REVIEWS WORK

Before the vote accepting Rolison's resignation was taken, City Councilman Paul McCarthy reviewed the achievements of Redwood City during the 6½ years since the former Redding and Santa Barbara city manager came here.

McCarthy said the city had recorded an era of "great progress" and that Rolison had demonstrated "by unusual skill" the wisdom of the earlier council's selection. He said the city manager had achieved savings each year which paid his salary, and that he had not engaged in politics, as demonstrated by the retention of virtually the same city personnel during his tenure.

Mayor Lambert and Councilman Robert Jones joined in the expression.

Display of Grangers Wins High Praise, Hill Declares

In the presence of thousands of visitors and delegates in attendance at the National State Grange Convention last week in Sacramento, San Mateo county's attractive panel picture display, banked with hundreds of the choicest chrysanthemum blooms, was awarded first prize for floral exhibits, Publicity Director William McCarthy was advised today.

The display was prepared and presented by East Palo Alto Grange No. 409, and was in charge of B. N. Hill of East Palo Alto.

Hill said, "the convention was one of the most successful ever held in California, and had the largest attendance of recent years. San Mateo county's display drew the attention of thousands of visitors, and, I am sure, from the demand for county pamphlets, satisfying results will be obtained. We received hundreds of requests for information as to our horticultural-agricultural outputs; available farm lands, price, location and climate.

"The county panel-picture display surrounded with exquisite chrysanthemum blooms, shipped from Redwood City, was the center of attraction, and held the attention of everyone at the convention."

"The full membership of East Palo Alto Grange was gratified at the results, and distinctly proud to claim San Mateo county as our home."

The panel-picture has been returned and is on display in the rotunda of the courthouse.

12th Anniversary Sale Is Underway By R.C. Creamery

Following a complete remodeling and modernization program, the Redwood City Creamery and Delicatessen today opened an anniversary sale, celebrating twelve years of successful business in Redwood City, according to Manuel J. Frago, proprietor.

The creamery was established in 1923 in a location just north of the present store. In 1927 Frago erected the present building, which also houses the California Market.

Increased business has now made more floor space necessary and the recent improvements were accomplished for this purpose.

The store is now capable of handling a larger stock of merchandise and serving a greater number of patrons with ease and convenience.

Frago expects a record crowd to attend the anniversary sale and note the many new features of the remodeled store.

$269,675 Price Set in Utility Here By State

Firm Attacks Estimate As Low and Secures Time Extension

Cost of the physical properties of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company used for electrical distribution purposes in Redwood City if the municipality should decide to buy the system was set Wednesday at a California Railroad Commission hearing as $269,675, the Associated Press reported.

The value was placed by Chief Evaluation Engineer C. T. Mess of the commission after months of study in the field with five engineers.

Mess said to reproduce the properties used for electrical distribution purposes would cost $347,520 new.

Depreciation of the present system would give the price as $269,675, he said.

The figure does not include the P. G. and E.'s "good will" or "going concern" values.

Utilitiy engineers and attorneys immediately attacked the price as an underestimate and asked delay of the price-fixing until February or later so that valuation figures could be produced by company engineers.

City officials present viewed the cost set by Engineer Mess as fair because it came within $1000 of the estimated cost of acquiring the properties.

The commission, after lengthy debate, adjourned the hearing to January 30 to give the P. G. and E. the time it requested for valuation studies.

Redwood City was represented by City Attorney Albert Mansfield, City Manager E. A. Rolison, City Engineer Charles Dimmitt, City Treasurer B. E. Myers and R. J. Clark, engineering assistant, and Chaffee Hall represented the power company.

Frank R. Devlin presided at the railroad commission hearing.

MAY RESCIND BINGO LAW

(Special to The Tribune)

BAYSHORE CITY, Nov. 20.—Originally scheduled to meet last night to rescind the bingo ordinance, the city council has set December 3 as date for its next meeting.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Armless Beggar Not Harmless, Chief Finds

On the surface he appeared to be only a harmless one-armed beggar.

But Frank Hoover, 56, whom Judge Edward I. McAuliffe week before last sentenced to the county jail for 90 days after Police Chief C. L. Collins found the missing arm strapped down the beggar's back, has a long prison record which includes a 20-year term for murder and subsequent escape local police learned today.

In 1903 Hoover was sentenced to the Lansing (Kas.) penitentiary for murder, but escaped in 1919, was recaptured, and then released after serving his term, Chief Collins said he was advised by federal authorities. In 1931 he was arrested in Los Angeles, in September for robbery and again in October for violation of the state gun law. On the latter charge he was sentenced to San Quentin and only recently had been released, Collins learned.

they told us we were foolish...

We didn't use The Tribune to advertise the opening of this fine new Men's Furnishing Store we're so proud of—we sent out 1800 postal cards instead. And they told us we were foolish—that if we really wanted to let our fellow townspeople know what fine new lines and low prices we had in men's furnishings, we ought to use the daily paper. So to prove that we want you to know us and to see how interested you really are, we're using The Tribune to make this special opening offer to every one.

DOWN

AGAIN—Electric RATES DROP

Down they go! Beginning with your January bills electric rates will be reduced for home use, for commercial lighting and large industrial power, according to the amount of electricity used.

Down goes the cost of electric cooking and water heating, lighting, for washing machines and ironers, and for all the smaller uses, from the electric clocks to the doorbell transformers, to the percolator and toaster that get the daily breakfast. Electricity becomes cheaper, too, to every merchant, large or small, and in all office buildings for commercial lighting of windows, stores, counters, signs, etc.

It is important news and good news that this reduction will save Pacific Gas and Electric Company customers nearly $4,000,000 a year. It is unusual news in these days when general living costs are pushing higher and higher. Think of it! As shown in the chart above, the Cost of Living is UP 33.3% above the pre-war level. The cost of electricity with the new low rates is 35.4% below that level—and that means 68.7% below today's cost of living.

Establishing a record unmatched by any other item in the cost of living, the cost of electricity has steadily gone down since 1928. Successive rate reductions since that year show an accumulated total of $54,621,000—equivalent to an annual saving to customers of over $6,800,000.

Benefits Due From Shore R. R. Told

COAST SALVATION, CLAIMS GROWER

'Artichoke King' Says Much New Acreage To Be Farmed

Placing in operation again of the Ocean Shore Railroad will prove the salvation of the coastside region south of San Francisco. This was the opinion expressed today by Danta Dianda, banker, pioneer vegetable and produce grower, who is known as the "artichoke king."

"Irrespective of the many other benefits accruing to the coastside from railroad service, from the standpoint of the vegetable and produce growers alone the renewal of service by the Ocean Shore will prove an invaluable boon," said Dianda, who controls large land holdings in this region.

"Thousands of acres of rich lands, now lying fallow and idle along the coastside because of prohibitive production and marketing costs, attributable to shipping rates and facilities, will again be brought into cultivation with the advent of the railroad."

Dianda, who records show, was a patron of the old Ocean Shore, having shipments carried on the first and last trains operated by the road, declared that present shipping facilities and costs prohibit growers from bringing in the fertilizer needed to mature crops for the early markets when prices are at their peak. Likewise, he said, growers find conditions unfavorable in getting their crops to market or the railroad over dangerous and tortuously mountainous curved roads, which makes transportation facilities costly to operate. Under these conditions also, vegetables and produce, especially artichokes, for which the coastside region is noted, are bruised and damaged in transit and thus not saleable on reaching the eastern markets.

"The light roller bearing gas rail cars and trailers, with which the Ocean Shore will be equipped, will remove the prohibitive rate barrier, because of the tremendous reduction in operating and maintenance costs," Dianda declared. "In addition it will then be possible to bring railroad refrigeration cars practically to the door of coastside farms and eliminate the costly and damaging long hauls to market and railroad centers.

"The coastside region produced the bulk of the vegetables for the bay region market, as well as sending vast quantities of produce to eastern markets in the days of the old Ocean Shore operation. With the stopping of service nearly a score of years ago, vegetable and produce men sought locations nearer the San Francisco market and which did not require shipping over Pedro mountain. Rents today for vegetable producing lands in the Colma district range from $90 to $100 per acre, while the present average rent per acre along the coastside region is $20."

The quality of vegetables produced in the coastside area, Dianda said, is "the best in the world," because of the favorable climate and rich soil.

"Outside of a small area on Long Island, the coastside region is the only one in the United States producing highest quality sprouts," he declared. "This region produces the only artichokes in this country which are far superior to those grown in Europe. The coastside also grows the best lettuce in the state, the finest peas obtainable and cabbage, kale and other vegetables equal to those grown anywhere."

William Booker Memorial Rites Set Tomorrow

Memorial services for William Green Booker, former owner of the White Shoe Company of Redwood City, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the Parmelee & Phillips (James Crowe Co.) chapel.

Mr. Booker was stricken suddenly with pneumonia and passed away Monday at Stockton.

Services are to be private.

Mr. Booker, a member of the Congregational church, leaves his wife, Christine, and his son, William G. Jr., to mourn him.

CONTEST PRIZES AWAITING TAKERS

Beautification of City Expected to Result From Letters

Cash prizes totaling $30 today were awaiting takers.

All that is necessary for a Redwood City resident to win one of the $15, $10 or $5 awards offered in the current city beautification letter contest is to submit to the local chamber of commerce in the Sequoia Theater building one of the three best 1000-word plans for improving appearance of entrances to the town.

Complete sets of rules, mimeographed, have now been placed on school bulletin boards. Copies can be obtained at the chamber of commerce office.

Open for a month, the contest is expected to produce ideas which may be developed and used on the six highways leading into the cities.

The contest committee is composed of L. E. Wolbert, chairman; John Gill, John Layng, George McQueen and Henry Witte. It is backed by the chamber, and the Lions and Exchange clubs.

Arlington Rites Will Be Accorded P.A. War Veteran

(Special to The Tribune)

PALO ALTO, Nov. 21.—With full military honors being accorded him, Brigadier General Eugene D. Dimmick, U.S.A., retired, will be buried Saturday morning at the Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D. C., according to information released by the war department.

General Dimmick, who served with distinction during the Civil and Spanish-American wars and retired in 1903, died Saturday in Palo Alto at the age of 95.

The art of engraving stones is believed to have originated in South Mesopotamia.

The eggs of the cowbird are laid in the nests of other birds. Some yellow warblers refuse to sit on the intruder's eggs and bui'd a new nest on top of the old one.

MENLO PARK NEWS

Mrs. Katherine Derry was hostess to the past presidents of San Mateo county at her home on Pine street Thursday night. After initiation of several new members, a social hour followed. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Several members of Menlo Park American Legion Auxiliary attended the dinner and fashion show the Redwood City auxiliary sponsored in the Veterans' Hall Tuesday night.

W. H. Weeden is attending a meeting of representative Republican leaders of the state at Del Monte this week-end. Mrs. Weeden, who accompanied him, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Thomas.

Paul Thomas, who recently returned from Honolulu, visited his aunt, Mrs. W. H. Weeden, last week.

Mr. Thomas Sexton and his aunt, Mrs. J. E. Weeden, have moved to San Francisco for the winter months.

The mortal remains of John O'Neill, killed by an automobile near Encinal avenue on the Highway (El Camino Real(Saturday evening, were laid away along side those of his parents and brother in Holy Cross Cemetery Tuesday morning.

The deceased came from an old pioneer family of Menlo Park and was born here 54 years ago. At an early age he apprenticed himself to the nursery business with the Lynch Nurseries and became one of the best known expert gardeners of the peninsula. His services were in big demand. As a landscape gardener he had but few equals. Many of the fine lawns in the community were planted by him.

The O'Neill family came to Menla Park in the seventies. Mr. J. O'Neill, the father, was a veteran of the Civil War, having participated in the battles of Gettysburg and Antietam. O'Neill at 19 joined a New York regiment and was rushed to the South where he was wounded. As a mark of respect to the memory of the well-known florist, a large number of friends attended the funeral from the Church of the Nativity Tuesday morning. O'Neill was unmarried and had resided in Menlo Park all his life. He is survived by a brother, Edward O'Neill, of Los Angeles.

Bishop Parsons confirmed a class of 12 at Trinity Episcopal Church on Sunday last. Bishop Parsons first came to Menlo Park 40 years ago as a young minister from Massachusetts to relieve the late Rev. Stone. Trinity Church was the bishop's assignment after his ordination and whenever the church dignitary comes here he refers to his happy pastorate in Menlo Park.

The duck season opens today for one month. Local hunters will seek the marshes and lakes for birds. From all accounts, they are scarce in this region. In years bygone San Mateo County was the hunting grounds for San Francisco sportsmen. The bag limit is 10 ducks.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helen Johanson, Crane avenue, Tuesday evening. The deceased had been a resident of Menlo Park for over 40 years and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. Mrs. Smith is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Helen Johanson and Mrs. Charlotte Dick, and a son, Charles Smith, all of Menlo Park. A son, Henry, died some years ago.

The old O'Keefe home erected in 1878 is being dismantled. It was one of the first dwellings erected on Glenwood avenue. The property was recently purchased by the grammar school trustees for a playground. The school buildings now have two entrances, one on the highway and one on Glenwood avenue.

Mrs. Catherine Layne, who passed away last Monday at her home in Mayfield, was well-known in Menlo Park, having lived here when her husband, James Layne, conducted the old pioneer livery stables. Mrs. Layne was a native of San Juan, Calif., aged 50 years.

CEMENT ROAD ROCKED

Laying of crushed rock on the county road from the Bayshore highway to the plant of the Pacific Portland Cement Company has been started by County Engineer U. S. Marshall and his department in an effort to smooth out the road, he announced today.

SINGLE LIGHT DISTRICT PLAN STILL PUSHED

Board Tells Marshall To Study Chances For Savings

Still insistent that the lighting districts in San Mateo county should be consolidated, despite the report of Deputy District Attorney Daniel Sullivan that the plan was impractical, Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, Monday had the board direct further inquiry into the problem.

Witt moved, Supervisor John Poole seconding, that County Engineer Urban S. Marshall detail someone from his office to make the study of how the districts can be consolidated or to hire a lighting engineer for the survey.

The supervisor then proposes that the electors of the various districts be given an opportunity to disband the areas and all lighting be secured under one franchise, on which the utility would be asked to pay a tax.

Marshall is to make the survey from the $11,000 engineering fees set up in his office for other than road purposes.

Contract for lighting in the Montara district was held up for 30 days because the contract was for five years instead of one.

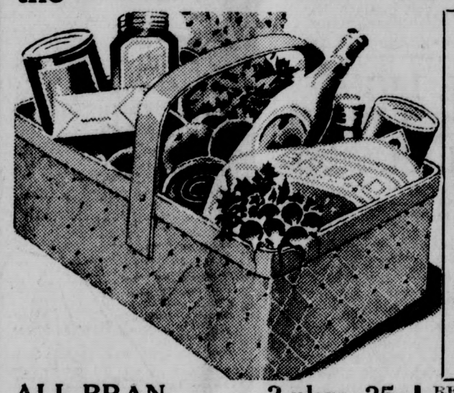
EXPANSION and ANNIVERSARY Sale of the REDWOOD CITY CREAMERY



THANK YOU!

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the many friends and customers whom we have had the pleasure of serving during our 12 years of business in Redwood City. We realize that it has been through the continued confidence and patronage of satisfied customers that we have been able at this time to alter our store to provide for greater stock space. By way of appreciation we are offering the largest selection of bargains ever offered the public during our 12 years in business.
